A Difference Now of 48 Points Between the Two League Leaders Philadelphia and Baltimore Lose While the Chicagos Out-point the New Yorks—Gossip of the Game, After capturing seven straight games on the

read, the Brookiyus were beaten at Pittsburg yesterday by a ran. As the Bostons made a elean sweep of four straight at Cleveland there is a difference of 48 points between the two eaders this morning. The Philadelphias were downed by the Louisvilles, and the Balti-mores were whitewashed by the Cincipnatis, which widens the gaps between second, third which widens the gaps between second, third and fourth places. The Reds incidentally drew farther away from St. Louis, while the Kentuckians regnined ninth notch from the New Yorks, who were outpointed in a close game at Chicago. The Brooklyns now come home for a long series, beginning with a set-to of three games with the Clevelands, all which should yield victories for Hanlon's men. The results:

FITTSBURG, Aug. 30.— Hustlers, after apparently elimching a victory, lost to-days game, the last of the year here in a sensational fluish. Kennedy's start indicated a desire to equal the best pitching record and for five innings not a Pirnts reached first base. In the sixth a single and a base on balls which did not affect the soore were the first blots upon Kennedy's page, but in the seventh inning his trouble was bunched and five hits and his own error let the Pirates score four runs-enough to win. The fledding was last and even. The excellent work of Ely and O'Brien being matched by the clever performance of Daly and Dahlen, while Jones and Keller gave a remarkable exhibition in their rapid return of hits. While Kennedy was under fire in the seventh linning Jones cut off one run at the plate. The Surperbas did not find Chesbro an easy proposition, but set the pace by scoring one run in the second linning on Daly's infield hit and Dahlen's three-bagger which skinned along the left line. In the sixth inning Jones singled, Keeler got a base on balls and both were advanced by Jennings's sacrifice. Here can be seen the second with McCarthy's hit, which was reduced to a single by Jones's fast fielding to centre for two bases, scoring Jones and Keeler's return held McCarthy at second. Kennedy made matters worse by fumbling Ely's bounder. Fox sent a fly to Keeler, scoring McCarthy, Schriver's single scored Donovan. Ely scoring Schriver. O'Brien's hit which Kenley made matters worse by fumbling Ely's bounder. Fox sent a fly to Keeler, scoring McCarthy, Schriver's single scored Donovan. Ely scoring Schriver. O'Brien was caught at the ninth, when with one out, Kennedy walked unwould have been out if Fox had held Chesbro's throw but the error was not costly, as Jones, who tried to score on it was caught at the plate. The Brooklyn team left for home tonight. The score:

CHICAGO, 3; NEW YORK, 2.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Stupid base running and Doheny's lack of coutrol lost the game for New York to-day. Apparently Kid Gleason and his men were in a trance, for they had several opportunities to secure a winning lead by exercising even ordinary judgment in base running. The three double plays consummated by the local aggregation were made on long files to the outfield when the New Yorks were on bases, the base runners being caught off their respective bases in each case. Doheny had plenty of speed and a puzzling drop, but he lacked control, and had it not been for some elever bits of fielding on the part of Doyle, Gleason and Hardesty, some runs would have been added to their score. The batting of O'Brien and Foster and the elever work of Gleason at second were the only redeeming features of the Gothamites' exhibition. Young Taylor was in the box for Chicago, and nithough lie had little speed the exhibition. Young Taylor was in the box for Chicago, and although he had little speed the young man found it comparatively easy to puzzle the men from the east. Jimmy Connoral second base piay, and the all-around work of Jimmy Ryan proved patent aids to the local twirlers. During the game Captain Gleason announced that the New Yorks have signed a young pitcher named Glendon. He halls from Chicago and pitched fairly effective hall in the Texas-Lengue during the first part of the season. Judging from his work during the Chicago series, Martin, the third baseman that Kid Gleason picked up on the west side last Monday, will prove a valuable find for New York. He has played fast ball both in the field and at the but since he joined the team. He is young, ambitious and a man of excellent habits. The attendance to-day was 500. The acore:

BOSTON, R. CLEVELAND, 5.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—Bates was hit hard by the BOSTON to day, and they would have rolled up a larger score but for the goed work of the Cleveland outfielders. The Clevelands bunched their hits in the ninth inning and scored four runs. Stupid base running cost them two runs. A peculiar decision was made by McGarr in the third inning. Buffy hit sharply toward Quinn, and as the latter was about to pick up the ball. McGarr ran into him, knocking him insensible, the ball going to right field. To stone for causing the accident, McGarr called Buffy out. The whole Boston team gathered about McGarr, but he refused to take back his decision. The score:

Both Hahn and Howell had excellent command and not a base on balls was given during the game. Howell was hit hard, but he kept the hits scattered with soms degree of success. This interesting comment is from a Washington paper:—"Andrew Freedman thinks he is having fun with his associates of the big League. His killing the game in New York will, in his opinion, cause all the other clubs to lose money, which is the acme of his desires, believing, in that case, the magnates will strike their colors and beg for mercy. Freedman was never so badly mistaken. His associates know that under his management the game in New York is dead, and ennot be restored, consequently they have no compromises to make with him. With almost a united press lighting him and a badly demoralized and diestitished team, he could not succeed in New York even if he so desired; therefore, instead of coming to him in a body entreating for mercy, the League is slowly freezing him out. They are not losing money, as Freedman seems to believe, yet they would make more money if some other than Freedman was in control of the club."

The game scheduled for Saturday afternoon at Orange Oval between the Brooklyn League team and the Orange Athelics cals attention again to the superior qualities of the baseball organization so long maintained in the Jersey suburb. Having only one or two games a week, the Orange people have for several years kept together a team that has met with honor and frequently with success the players of the big League and the best college and other amateur and professional nines in the country. Its work this season has been fully up to shis standard. Several brilliant new players have appeared. Thomas the present centrefielder of the Philadelphia League team, has been succeeded by D. Coegrave, a sucorb player, atrong at the bat and nimble in running the bases. His brother, W. Coegrave, makes an energetic shortstop and captain. Diedrich and Grev are doing good work in leit and right field. Horner is still steady and true at first base. The greatest find of the year is White, the pitcher from Georgetown. O'Neill behind the bat continues to deserve his reputation for high-class work.

ANOTHER WIN FOR IMP. THE SUBURBAN HEROINE OUTRUNS

Spirited Racing but Erratic Form at Sheepshead Bay-Mesmerist Carries Top Weight to the Frent in the Dash Stakes-The Bachelor Proves His Staying Qualities.

FOTER AND OTHER CRACKS.

One of the best-balanced cards yet presented was the magnet which drew about 5,000 visitors to the races at Sheepshead Bay yesterday afternoon. Every item on the programme proved an interesting problem for the talent, and even in the first event, which reduced itself to a three-horse match, only a few found the winner. This unprofitable aspect of affairs obtained all day until the last race when The Bachelor came to the rescue of the few plungers who had anything left to speculate with. The weather was again ideal for an outing and the racing was decidedly good.

The first stake event presented was the Dash. for two-year-olds, over the last five furiongs of the Futurity course. Eleven candidates were carded, but John E. Madden withdrew Rad-ford and substituted Guiden, while the Kensico stable added the unbeaten Sad-Although the latter was up ducee. "class" company for the first time in his career he was made a pronounced favorite. There was also a plunge on Marcus Daly's St. Finnan while the wiseacres passed over Mesmerist as having no chance at the weights. But the Bromley colt, after leading all the way, won easily by two lengths. Turning round the elbow for home Musette moved up into the elbow for home Musette moved up into second place and held that position to the end, beating Gulden three parts of a length bims had Saduces well up all the way, but did not succeed in developing the gelding's best form and lost the "show" money by a head.

The Dash was followed by the Ocean, second of the popular autumn handloaps. Previous eurprised a host of horsemen by winning the first leg of the series last Saturday and he went to the post again yesterday. The distance this time, however, was one mile instead of six furiouss and Previous was allowed to go begging at 10 to 1. An equally liberal price was offered against the noted stake winner Imp, but her followers quickly out her price to the post at 2 to 1. The regulars argued that he could not go a mile in hast company, although his first signal success was in the Metropolitan three years ago. As matters turned out they figured correctly. Voter throwing it up more than a furious from home. Until then he had been racing on the outside of Imp, at her throat latch, but the mare outgamed him, and then stalling off the other prominent contenders, won out by a neck from Charentus, who finished two longths clear of Batten, with Swiftmas at the latter's withers, imp's time equalled that of Domino in 1814, but fell short of the 1:30 4-5 set up by Henry Young in 1855.

The picturesque event of the day was the handicap over two miles on the turf. With only four horses to oppose him. The Bachelor looked a certainty, but the books always offered as good as 7 to 5 against him. He trailed behind his field to the last quarter, but then came through at will and won easily by a length.

CHOYNSKI DEFEATS BYAN.

But the Australian Pugilist Stays the Limit at Dubaque. Dubuque, Ia., Aug. 30.—Before the Dubuque A. A. last night Joe Choynski was awarded the decision over "Australian" Jimmy Ryan after a tweffty-round bout. Some thought Choynski had it easy, and for the first six rounds it looked that way, but afterward Ryan improved and made a good showing. In the preliminary contest Clarence Forbes knocked Con Suffield out in the eleventh round. The boxing carnival now in progress is the biggest pugilistic event ever attempted in the West, and it is a great success. At 10 o'clock every one of the 6,000 state in the big Auditorium was taken and standing room was at a premium. The Mayor of the city occupied a prominent seat, and was given a great ovation. George Siler was referee. Choynski was seconded by Harry Peppers and Frank Hurley, Jack Thornby and Frank Choynski was seconded by Harry Peppers and Frank Hurley, Jack Thornby and Frank Early were behind Ryan. Choynski had the advantage of about three inches in height. Ryan broke ground through the first round. Joe jabbed him two or three with left and tried the right once or twice. Both were cautious in the second. Ryan went to Joe and cliuched to avoid rights. Ryan received two hard joits and Ryan eliached.

Joe opened up livelier in the third and went to his man, repeatedly jabbing with the left on the jaw and bead. Ryan's leads and counters fell short. Choynski countinued jabbing him in the fourth. Ryan had not landed one good blow. Choynski closed and drove Ryan arounds the ring in the fifth, jabbing him, and occasionally landing his left. Ryan came in unexpectedly and landed a hard one in Joe's face, and followed soon after to the neck.

Ryan came up to his man in the sixth, and after considerable fidding landed on Joe's neck. Joe ducked several jabs but got his right in on Ryan's head. Joe pushed Ryan into the corner and gave him two right punches in the head. Ryan is head: Joe pushed Ryan into the corner and gave him two right punches in the head iff punch to Choynski's head but fell short. Joe came back and hooked and jabbed Ryan several times, driving him around the ring.

The eighth was Choynski's round. He got in a succession of blows and jabs, which Ryan showed better in the stomech. Ryan showed better in the stomech Ryan showed better in the stomech. Ryan showed better in the stomech Ryan showed better in the stomech Ryan hard on the wind. Choynski chased Hyan around the ring repeatedly, jabbing him hard. Ryan looked much worried, but was game. on the wind. Choyaski chased Hyan around the ring repeatedly, jabbling him hard, Ryan looked much worried, but was game. Joe annuded in the eleventh, and Byan stood the gaff well and got a couple in, but Joe's left worried him. Choyaski tried several times in the twelfth with his right, but Ryan got inside of them.

Ryan came strong in the thirteenth and tried to land, taking several stiff jabs. Ryan showed stiff better in the fourteenth and got to Choynski's wind and head several times. Joe had way the best of the fifteenth. His jabs closed Ryan's left eye and covered him with blood. Both men were in good chape in the last round. Siler gave Choynski the decision.

The last contest in the championship series of the Metropolitan District Cricket League between New York and Staten Island is likely to be the cause of protest by the former club. They objected to decision which prevented one of their men from batting because he had not fielded. The game was batting because he had not fielded. The game was closely contested, and was won by Staten Island by 14 time. It was peculiar in many ways. The first three wickets for New York fell for 61 runs, but the last seven wickets fell for 35 runs and the last three put on 45. The principal feature of the match was the bowling of J. E. Roberts, who captured eight wickets for 32 runs. C. E.H.Griffith played a good not out limings of 33 for Staten island, while C. Byers and A. E. Smith made their neual good stand for New York. The score: Staten Island, 20, New York, 76.

The New York and Kings County cricket clubs will play a game at Prospect Park to-day, when the latter club will endeavor to turn the tables on their opponents, who administered a defeat to them in their last contest on the same ground. Engs county has finished its championship games for the season and will now content itself with exhibition matches.

Want to Take Pictures of the Sharkey-Jeffries Fight. Matt Cline, who has been selected to receive bids for the Jeffries-Sharkey contest was notifield by Brady yesterday that the latter would have a talk with O'Rouke to-morrow evening at the Vanderbilt Hotel. Cline said that no at the Vanderbilt Hotel. Cline said that no bids as yet have been received. This was rather strange he thought in view of the fact that only one day yet remains before the time imit expires. While no particular club has been chosen, it looks as though some other rendervous outside of the Lenox and Coney Island organizations will have to be selected. The managers of both fighters are determined to take pictures of the battle, and in order not to meet with any failure this time, the encounter will have to be held in the open air. In its present state neither the Lenox or Coney Island buildings are adapted to picture-taking, unless the roofs are removed, and this it seems would be a difficult task.

One Hundred Dollars for a Cigar. Sporting men usually have the reputation of being very liberal, but very few were ever known to spend $100 for a cigar. This is what Jimmy Wakely did, however, at the opening Jimmy Wakely did, however, at the opening night of John L. Sullivan's café. Wakely and two friends entered the place. The meeting between Sullivan and his former backer was very cordial, and after a chat Wakely took out a crisp $100 bill, placed it on the bar and called for three good cigars. The bartender brought the weeds and started to count the change. Wakely waved him off and told him to ring up the whole amount. "I have the cigar still in my possession," said Wakely yesterday, "and I will keep it till it decays. Bullivan was aiways a good fellow and it was a pleasure for me to pay that sum for a smoke."

Burnet, 2 to 1, won; Nickey D., 112 (J. Matthews), 12 to 1, second; Celtic Bard, 100 (L. Rose), 8 to 1, third, NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN. NEXT YEAR'S MODELS WELL UNDER

WAY IN SOME FACTORIES. Chainless Will Be Featured, Several Firms Deciding to Add the New Gear to Their List - Changes in the Old Chain Models - How a Rider Paced Himself. Designs for next year's cycles are now being cases the 1900 models have been passed upon finally. It was generally expected that this would be an unusually early year with the manufacturers in getting out their models for next season. So far as the buying of material parts and the articles for equipment goes, it has been an early year, but the formation of the trust has acted as somewhat of a check on the perfection of medels. There has been more or less hesitation everywhere beits being uncertain moves the trust might make in the direction of modifying and standardiging. One thing that seems assured is a general recog-nition that the weight limit has been reached. A slight reaction is likely in this respect. It is on long rides that additional weight in a machine makes the rider realize how much it handicaps his efforts, and as touring has increased, the objections to heavy wheels have grown stronger until the complaint has been heard by the makers. Lightening the excessively big sprockets will be one of the targets, but this does not mean any reduction in the size of the average gear. It is thought by some that the year will also mark the beginning of a reaction in the matter of large tubing, al-though no decided and immediate jump to the smaller tubing is anticipated. One maker has already begun to turn out as stock machines bicycles with a 26-inch steering wheel, and it is not unlikely that he will have quite a little company. The small front wheel is a feature that was first introduced by pace followers, notably Jimmy Machael. It is urged in its favor that the 26-inch wheel in front not only enables makers to in its favor that the 28-inch wheel in front not only enables makers to reduce the weight, but permits the retention of the dropped hangers, together with longer and stronger heads. There seems to have been a tendency toward wider handle-bars all this season, the leisurely riders who make long trips finding that they do not get enough expansion of the chest with the sizes now popular. There will be more chainless wheels on the market than ever next season, several makers who do not produce them having decided to add them to their lines. A number of manufacturers will make the chainless their leader, and a wave of popularity is confidently expected for this tyne. The tide in its favor it is expected, will be largely due to the changes, for the chainless will probably show more marked improvements than any of the chain cycles. The first important change will be in the matter of weight. It will be reduced four or five pounds and racing models will be mide. The two years of probation that the chainless has passed through are considered to have proved its stability and efficiency enough to warrant this lightening. The present machines were made on a safe basis in order that their future might not be spoiled by broakdowns. The refinement of bearings and construction will continue and some developments of interest in bearings are promised. Concerning prices no reduction is looked for. Chainless wheels will list at $75 and chain wheels generally at $50 and $40.

How a scorcher ran a race with himself and chased himself until thoroughly baked is a story that comes from Jersey. The scorcher was riding on a boulevard at night and as he turned a corner fancied he heard the noise of a wheel behind him. Looking backward he saw a light shining on his rear wheel, and, taking it for granted that some one seeking pace had 'tacked on' to him, he started in to give the hanger-on all he wanted. He increased his pace until he was all out and kept at it until he was completely fagged, occasional glances showing him the light of the follower's lamp still shining on his rear wheel. He slowed up and dismounted and saw to his disgust that he was alone on the road. A glance at the head of his wheel where his lamp was fastened revealed what he had been too much absorbed to notice before. The bracket with the light was thrown behind instead of in front.

The bicycle is making trouble among plumbers. It is agreed by some bosses that the journeymen of their rivais who have bicycles place their own men at a disadvantage, because of their ability to travel to and from work more quickly. A plumbers' union in California has prohibited its members from using bicycles in connection with their work. In the East a different view seems to be taken. One master plumber here keeps five wheels which he rents out when they are not in use by his men, and it frequently happens that he has no wheels for rental because his men are going about from one job to another on them. Much time is saved in suburban districts where train service is poor. service is poor.

Baltimore Aug. 30.—Charles Miller of Chicago last night defeated Henry Smith of this city in atwenty-five mile motor-paced race at the Collacum. It was seen early in the contest that Smith was riding in distress. His face was drawn and he was trained too fine. At the shot of the pistol Smith took the lead of thirty yards, but in the second mile Miller had made up the gap and started to gain from this time. On the seventh Smith look the pace and Miller increased his lead a half a lap. Smith again lost his pace in the ninth mile and fell another lap behind. Miller made his lead one mile on the eightenth mile. Smith then seemed to strike second wind, and from this time to the end he prevented Miller from increasing the lead. Miller's time for the distance was 43 minutes 18 3-5 seconds.

eighty-two players to-night closes with eight men left to fight it out: Four for the President's Cup. C. Hitchoock, Jr., H. B. Hollins, H. M. Harriman, and Q. A. Shaw, Jr., and four for the Consolation Cup, E. M. Beyers, G. J. Cooke, H. Hitchcock, and Victor Sorchan. 1t was an ideal day for golf. The majority of those who had failed to qualify the day before had departed for their homes. The spectators were society people mostly and there was a goodly number of these. They seemed divided into two factions, the Keene faction and the Harriman faction, and the majority of them were with Keene. His good work of the previous day inspired his friends with hopes that he might pull himself to-gether, but although he defeated his man in the first round, Keene met his Waterloo in the afternoon from Amateur-Champion Harriman. In the morning the Champion Harriman. In the morning the C. Hitchcock-Atherton match was first off and the latter player was coached by Willie Campbell, who had great hopes for the Bostonian. But he had no show and the match lacked interest throughout. The Graham-Perin match was closely contested, as was the Hollins-R. Watson, Jr., match, Hollins playing in great form and beating his opponent two up. Hollins also made an excellent showing in the second round. Harriman and J. S. Mauran had quite a following. Harriman started out well, but Mauran played in great luck, and at the end of the first hine holes the score was only 1 up for Harriman. Finally, when dormic three, a poor put lost the swenteenth for Harriman, and haiving the naxt, he had the match by 2 up and 1 to play. The score by strokes was:

ing play. Hardsome prizes will be offered for the senson's play as well as each tournament, and as the club aiready has a membership of 123 and a limit of 150 active members, there is every prospect of a successful season. Working in conjunction with the Sunset Park Golf Club, which has its weekly tournaments on Mondays, the Sunset Golf Club will make every effort to have the course improved and beautified as rapidly as possible. Park Commissioner Brower of the Brooklyn Department of Parks, is an honorary member of the organization, in which he takes great interest.

The last competition of the series for the cup offered by Mrs. Beard, at the Nassau Country Club, was held vesterday. Only the players who had won points in the previous competitions could take part. To-day's match at the Dyker Meadow Golf Club, between George Low, the resident professional, and R. R. Wilson, of the Deal Golf Club, will be at thirty-six holes, one half being played in the morning and eighteen holes in the afternoon. In the first half, played at Deal, on last Saturday, Wilson took a lead of 1 up, with which advantage he will begin today. Both made several rounds of the Dyker Meadow course yesterday, playing with various amateurs, and each showed that he was in the best of shape. A very interesting contest may be expected. James Laing, the Crescent A. O. professional, will carry for Low.

YONKERS, Aug. 30 -- At William H. Clark's Straus drove Colowebs two fast trials against he watch. There was a large gathering of. borsemen at the new course when the big chestnut with a record of 2:12 made his apchestnut with a record of 2.12 made his appearance. He was hisched to a skeleton pneumatic-tired roadwagon. Colwebs made his way to the half mile post. There he scored up with Mr. Straue's lay trotter, Alves 2.11 and driven by C. A. Thompson, the processional trainer. The horses lived up twice and then got away on the train at a furious clip. Before the turn was reached, Cobwebs had opened up a gap of two lengths. The hay horse caught Cobwebs on the turn but in the stretch the chestnut, urged by his owner, came away and hished the half in 1.03. After a cooling out Cobwebs was brought forth again. This time he was without pace. He went to the first quarter in 34 seconds, around the turn and completed the half in 1.04.3-5. Mr. Straus stated that the track is a grand one but the turns were not liked by his big horse.
